Do you know about all the free support available for post-16 citizenship?

Post-16 Citizenship Support Programme

Citizenship education is an important part of the development of young people. It enables them to learn about their rights and responsibilities, to understand how society works, and to develop an awareness of social and political issues. Through citizenship education, young people are encouraged to take action on issues of concern to themselves and play an active part in the democratic process, thereby becoming more effective members of society.

The Post-16 Citizenship Support Programme aims to extend the benefits of post-16 citizenship and increase participation in all post-16 education and training settings. The programme offers a comprehensive range of free training and support services to staff in England who are, or may become, involved in the delivery or management of post-16 citizenship provision. This includes:

- colleges
- work-based learning providers
- youth and community groups
- school sixth forms
- young offender institutions and projects

“Citizenship education has made me feel empowered and listened to – it’s shown me how I can make a difference.”
