INTERACTIVE WEBINARS: MATHS AND ENGLISH IN APPRENTICESHIPS

Improving outcomes in maths and English is central to success in work and life. Practitioners and providers are expected to ensure maths and English are at the heart of their teaching approach and employers require a workforce who are competently numerate and literate.

We offer a variety of different webinars to support effective teaching of maths and English for teachers of GCSE, Functional Skills, apprenticeships and study programmes.

This series of webinars will help you to:

- identify a range of strategies to help create a solid relationship with employers, encouraging and supporting their active engagement with maths and English support for apprentices
- examine ways in which practitioners can teach maths and English in a methodically inclusive way to support those who require additional support

- consider a range of factors which impact on apprentices' success in their maths and English learning
- explore digital approaches that can support apprentices' maths and English development
- examine effective strategies to design a supportive curriculum in maths and English
- examine a range of CPD and resources available through the Education and Training Foundation to support maths and English within apprenticeship delivery
- become familiar with effective practice in assessment and tracking apprentices' maths and English
- improve the contribution of the workplace to apprentices' maths and English progress and achievement.

Have you accessed the 'Improving the delivery of maths and English in Apprenticeships' Guide?

This multimodal guide gives you a taster of what is covered in the webinars. It is designed to support practitioners, trainers, assessors and managers working with apprentices to improve their delivery of maths and English. It provides the latest policy updates on apprenticeship reforms and addresses key challenges around teaching, learning and assessment. The guide also provides links to a wide range of resources and CPD training to support effective delivery of maths and English in apprenticeships.
