Listening Resources

Introduction to the listening resources.

These listening resources have been designed for use with New to ESOL learners. Groups of these learners may typically exhibit a very broad range of oral skills in terms of their levels of speaking and listening in English. We have therefore endeavoured to ensure that the listening tasks in the resources range from those suited to beginner level learners to tasks that present a higher level of challenge.

The video recordings that form the resources are all authentic in the sense that the language is natural, unplanned and idiomatic. This, therefore, is similar to the language that New to ESOL learners will encounter in their everyday lives, and this underlies our approach of grading the tasks rather than the raw listening material. But we have also matched the content of the resources to some of the key vocabulary and topics in the existing New to ESOL materials: this means that while we have focused primarily on developing learners' listening skills per se, each listening task also presents an opportunity to reinforce some of the linguistic content of the relevant New to ESOL Topic or Unit.

Each section of the listening resources corresponds to one of the units in the original New to ESOL materials. The table below set out the various links. In each of the sections, there are a minimum of two listening tasks, the first of which is designed for beginner learners, and may only involve recognition or identification of key information or key words. The task(s) which follow(s) is/are aimed at learners whose listening skills are more advanced, but are also open to adaptation to suit particular groups of learners.

These listening resources supplement the resources from the original New to ESOL materials.

In many ways, the resources are an exemplar of how teachers may be able to create their own original listening/video resources for use with their own groups. These resources were all filmed in one location – Hastings – so learners in other regions would be better served by more locally relevant resources. A similar set of interviews, filmed by teachers on phones or tablets, could simply be substituted as the raw materials to be used with the same tasks for each unit.

Materials

Preparation	Listening resource pack 1.1.L1 and 1.1.L2 - (People and Homes) Print one set of A4 for display and 1 set of cards per person/pair.
Warmer	Resource 1.1.L1: Images of people - Rachel (interviewer) Claudine, Paul, Francesca and Chris.

Activity 2	Video clip (Claudine and Paul) https://youtu.be/ORq43rqUHZw
Extension	Additional images Phones/ cameras/ handheld devices

Suggested approach

Warmer: Introducing the speakers

- Display A4 images of the 5 speakers on a whiteboard. Point to image of each and say: This is (name). Ask learners to repeat the names (learners will need to become familiar with the characters for the listening activities).
- Do a quick memory check give each learner a set of "people" image cards (Resource 1.1.L1). Say: Where's? and prompt learners to hold matching card in air
- Ask learners to take turns asking: Where's ...? Introduce additional phrases according to the speaking skills of your learners: Who's got ...? Has anyone seen ...?

Activity 1: Who lives where?

- Give out sets of "Homes" picture cards (Resource 1.1.L2). Check understanding of vocabulary items.
- 1st task: Ask learners to listen for "home" words and to hold up matching image card when they hear them.
- 2nd task: Give out "People" cards (Resource 1.1.L2). Learners listen and match people to the homes they live in.
- Check: Pick up and show one of the A4 "People" images and say: (Name) lives in a ... Drill the sentence as appropriate for the needs of your learners. Take the picture and stick it alongside the corresponding home.
- Show another "People" image and ask: Where does... live? Prompt a learner to take the image, stick it alongside corresponding "Home" image and make a statement: (Name) lives in a ... He/she lives in a ... Repeat until all cards are matched up.

Differentiation/localisation/extension

Source additional images to reflect your area (high-rise housing; cottage; terraced housing; caravan park).

Learners can use the images to make (or write) statements about their own/ others' homes live in a flat. Rahid lives in a hostel.

Activity 2: How many...?

- 1st task: Play the clips of Claudine and Paul. Ask learners to listen for answers to specific questions: How many bedrooms does Paul have? How many bathrooms does Claudine have? Does Paul have a garden? Does Claudine have a garden?
- 2nd task. Ask learners to listen for questions. If they hear a question word, they should hold up their hand, the repeat the question. Learners who are more advanced speakers/listeners may be able to reproduce the question forms accurately: for learners who are less advanced, check on general understanding by repeating the question yourself, then prompting the learner to supply the answer.

Differentiation/localisation/extension

- If possible, make your own clips with local people and local accents.
- Devise and ask extension questions for learners who are more fluent. E.g What does Claudine use her 5th bedroom for? What can Paul see from his flat?
- Ask learners to interview one another about their own homes, using the questions identified in Activity 2. They could record themselves on smartphones or handheld devices for extra listening practice.

LISTENING: MY NEIGHBOURHOOD TOPIC 2 UNIT 4: OUT AND ABOUT

Overview of topic

Learners listen to and answer questions about people talking about their local area.

Extension	Additional images and clips

Suggested approach

Warmer: Let's go to the ...

- Preview vocabulary. Spread out images (Resource 2.4.L1: seaside, countryside, park, restaurant, beach). Ask learners to take turns to pick up an image and name the place. Keep going until all images have been picked up. (Provide vocabulary yourself when necessary.)
- Display A4 images around the room. Ask everyone to stand up then say: Let's go to the (place) (or similar). Walk to the correct picture and wait until everyone is there. Repeat for all the pictures.
- Prompt individual learners to give instructions for the rest of the group to follow.
 Encourage learners with stronger speaking skills to use a range of structures: Why don't we go to... Meet me at the ... See you at the... etc

Activity 1: What do they like?

- 1st task: Ask learners to listen and raise their hands when speakers talk about things they like about their local area.
- 2nd task: Give out Resource 2.4 L2 Bingo cards and counters one set per person. Play the clip and instruct learners to listen and match learners to places. Ask them to shout "Bingo" when they have covered 4 places.
- Check ask learner to make statements about speakers' preferences. E.g. Claudine likes the beach.
- Continue to play clip until all counters have been used. (There are more people than places.) Ask checking questions as above, and repeat clip to clarify if necessary.
- Memory check: ask learners to show an image of a speaker and make a statement about something the speaker likes about their area. E.g. This is Chris. He likes live music.

Differentiation/localisation/extension

Source additional images to reflect your area (museums; parks; landmarks; mountains).

Learners can use the images to make statements about places they know, and give reasons. Ask prompt questions: What do you like about it? What don't you like? Why?

Activity 2: Who said what?

- Show speech bubbles (Resource 4) and say each phrase several times.
- 1st task: Play the clips of Chris and Claudine. Ask learners to just listen for the phrases from the speech bubbles and to hold up the picture of the relevant phrase when they hear one.
- 2nd task: Stick images of Claudine and Chris to a whiteboard. Play the clips again and pause after each target phrase. Nominate a learner to take the correct phrase to the whiteboard and stick it by the speaker. Then ask checking questions according to the level of your learners: e.g What was she talking about? What is wonderful?

Differentiation/localisation/extension

- If possible, make your own clips with local people and local accents.
- For learners who can't read English, you may choose not to use the speech bubbles. You could pair learners, or help them link the colour of the written word to the target word
- Create additional speech bubbles using phrases from all 4 speakers.
- Talk to learners one-to-one about their own area, and use their responses to create language experience texts. Use the stems from Activity 2: (Place name) is amazing/ beautiful/ busy. I like going to/ spending time in the (place).
