

National Star College

Joint Boundaries Training Case Studies

National Star College

Joint Boundaries Training Case Studies

1. A student is in the local town doing some shopping, he is supported by a staff member. The student decides to go to a local cafe for a drink and snack. The staff member has not brought any money with her and asks if she can borrow some money so that she can join him for a coffee. She promises to give him the money back as soon as she returns to college.

In groups discuss:

- Is this ok?
- What problems, if any could arise from this?
- What could the member of staff or student do to reduce the chance of problems?
- What should the member of staff do next?
- What should the student do next?

2. A first year student buys her key worker a personal present of aftershave and aims to give it to him before she leaves for the summer break .

In groups discuss:

- Is this ok?
- What problems, if any could arise from this?
- What could the member of staff or student do to reduce the chance of problems?
- What should the member of staff do next?
- What should the student do next?