

Student Tracking Sheet

Output Two

Output two is a case study of a student who presents challenging behaviours. This output includes a case study , an exemplar tracking sheet, an exemplar functional analysis, an exemplar risk assessment and reactive and reactive strategies.

Guidance on using the tracking sheets

The tracking sheet below is used to identify all behaviours that cause concern. It is designed to provide the tutor with an overall picture of the student's behaviour in all sessions, at every stage of the day and with each group of staff and students.

As our students move around the Centre and work with all staff members, the tracking sheet gives the tutor the information needed to assess whether it is times of day, particular setting or individual/personalities or subjects that may be adversely affecting the student's behaviour.

Lessons learnt

The section in pink was taken off the behaviour tracker that the staff completes in class as we have a range of abilities in the Centre and the more able students were reading the tracker and it was affecting the way that they interacted with the named students, so to protect students images to their peers we remove the information that identified the behaviours that we were looking for on sheet that there available in the classroom. Staff had access to the key information in the staffroom only.

Student trackers have to be collated weekly to identify any patterns and changes have to be made to test if what we think the issues are correct.

Student Tracking Sheet

Please use symbols and note the time:

- △ biting himself,
- sent outside,
- throwing drinks,
- ◇ showing signs of distress,
- † pushing/ punching students or adults

Monday	class+ assembly ◇ ○	Communication △ ◇ □			Lunch △	Independent living skills- off site or leavers group	class
Tuesday	Class ◇ ○	ASDAN : trampolining			Lunch △	Travel training	class
Wednesday	class	PE	break	English	Lunch △	Maths ◇ □	class
Thursday	Class ◇ ○	Preparation for adult life △ ○ □			Lunch △	ASDAN □	class
Friday	Class ◇ ○	swimming			Lunch △	ROA	assembly